zippo.com

This year marks the 70th anniversary of an American icon. Seventy years ago, George G. Blaisdell set up shop in Bradford, Pennsylvania, and began to manufacture the Zippo windproof lighter.

Over the past 70 years, little has changed in how we make Zippo lighters – after all, it's hard to improve on a design that works so well. Windproof. Water-resistant. Trustworthy and dependable. Like a faithful friend, people know they can depend on a Zippo lighter.

Zippo lighters seem to generate almost as many tales as they do portable flames. Click open a Zippo lighter, and it's a sure conversation starter. For years, we've been gathering Zippo stories – funny, poignant, even heroic accounts of how this modest, unassuming source of flame has touched the lives of people all over the world.

As we proudly introduce our 70th Anniversary line of Zippo windproof lighters and pocket gifts, we also share some of the stories that have been entrusted to us over the years. We've selected these stories on a purely subjective basis, and some have been edited for length. These are just a handful from the hundreds we've received over the years.

Sam B. Poin
George B. Duke

If you, or someone you know, would like to share a story about a Zippo lighter, click on stories at zippo.com.

Friends For A Lifetime

For 70 years, Zippo has been forging friendships worldwide. Carried to work, to important milestone events, even into battle, Zippo lighters are a part of our lives and our history. Every Zippo lighter has a story – funny, poignant, even heroic - whenever or wherever a Zippo lighter clicks open, a conversation starts.

To commemorate our 70th Anniversary, Zippo proudly introduces Friends For A Lifetime. Limited to only 70,000 worldwide, this eleventh and final Collectible of the Year is a distinctive brushed brass 1941 replica, with full-faced brass emblem and exclusive bottom stamp. Colorful tin pictures Zippo collectors and fans from National Zippo Day and Zippo / Case Swap Meet. Special volume of personal stories from Zippo owners is included with this commemorative set only.

Collector Story

I bought my first Zippo in 1979 when I started as a flying crew chief in the Air Force. I still have that first Zippo and it still works great, despite the abuse it took from an Air Force aircraft mechanic over 21 years of service all over the globe. This lighter has seen action in almost every conflict since 1979. It is my good luck charm. Thank you for helping to keep my faith in American companies.

The Norman Rockwell Collection was produced using Zippo's Technographics™ process. The dyed image is reproduced on a transfer medium, which is then positioned on the object to be imprinted. By the application of heat and pressure, the entire image, with all of its colors, is transferred in one step. Subtler gradations and a wider range of colors are possible. The rich colors, subtle gradations and delicate detail of the original artwork will not fade, chip, peel, or wear off as long as the finish remains intact.

Collector Story

I purchased a Zippo in the Base Exchange while stationed at Wethersfield RAF, Essex in 1957. My Zippo lighter is an example of true craftsmanship and has been a reminder to me of fond memories ... the sound of the Zippo top opening up ... the smell of the tobacco from the pipe ... the sound of the lighter top closing ... when I pick my old Zippo up and hold it, all those memories of my youth come back. My Zippo is still with me. We grew old together, my Zippo and I.

Collector Story

Recently, my father gave me the Zippo lighter that he has had since Vietnam. He treasured that lighter as a friend. Although beat up, tarnished and very well worn, I could see in his face how much he treasured it. As he told me of the time when he got it and the uses he made of it through the years, I looked at it and could imagine where every dent and nick came from. I ran my thumb over it and as I felt a dent or other imperfection, I would try to imagine what he was doing at the time to cause it. That lighter has character, soul, and maybe a bit of heroism in it.

I was in former Yugoslavia as a civilian, and as a NATO soldier for 3 years. I have about 40 different Zippo lighters from former Yugoslavia, each with its own different story. Some are happy. Some remind me of friends who are not around any more, or unknown colleagues who have fallen for the cause of peace.

Collector Story

I am an Army Officer who served with the 82nd Airborne Division. I would always jump with my "lucky lighter" (a Zippo with a shamrock on it). I made 38 jumps while at Fort Bragg. The one time I didn't have my lucky lighter, I ended up breaking my leg! Since then, I've moved to Germany and I am currently serving in Kosovo. I purchased the Indiana Jones Shamrock lighter and I hope it's as lucky as my old Zippo!

Collector Story

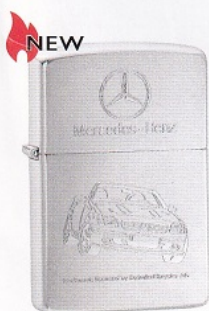

My friend and I decided to shoot a couple of rounds off at a local gun club. I went down range to put up the targets. As I was walking back, my friend dropped the gun, and two shots went off, both hitting the Zippo in the breast pocket of my coveralls. My lucky Zippo that I bought off a friend for 5 bucks saved my life! The lighter was destroyed, but I still carry it with me wherever I go.

I bought my Zippo right before I entered the army in 1980. When Hurricane Gloria hammered Long Island with 100 mile winds, I bet my wife that if I stood outside and lit the Zippo it would stay lit. Sure enough it stayed lit! My Zippo and I have been together for so long I knew it wouldn't let me down.

Collector Story

In 1970 I was stationed in Subic Bay. I told my wife, who was back in the states, that I had decided to quit smoking. I soon realized that I was not going to quit, but failed to tell my wife. One evening I was taping a letter to send back to my wife. The tape recorder was on record while I pulled a fresh pack of cigarettes from my shirt, unwrapped it, pulled out my Zippo and lit up. I never realized that all of the sounds were being taped, especially the unmistakable sound of a Zippo lighter opening followed by the ignition of the flame. When I returned home many months later, my wife presented the tape to me. She knew all of the time that I hadn't quit smoking.

Collector Story

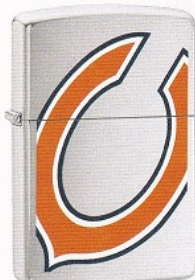

As far back as I can remember, my daddy carried the same Zippo lighter in his breast pocket. I can remember waking up in the middle of the night, hearing the clink of his lighter closing, and thinking what a comforting sound it was. It meant that daddy was close by. About 10 years ago, my daughter gave me a Zippo lighter. I treasure it because it reminds me of my daddy, and it was a gift from my girl. I often wonder if she gets comfort, in the middle of the night, hearing the clink of my lighter and knowing that I'm close by.

Collector Story

I was visiting the Czech republic through an exchange program in 1995. One night at the local bar, I asked a friend for a light. He offered this cool Zippo. I jokingly told the guy that I'd probably end up taking it with me, so he gave it to me as a present. When I found the lighter in my coat pocket the next morning, I read the inscription. It was the history of the Statue of Liberty, and an engraved picture of Lady Liberty. This was his one and only souvenir from the USA (my home country.) Every time I use my Zippo, I think of the most generous and giving guy in the Czech Republic!

Collector Story

My first Zippo was a gift from my soon to be father-in-law, who passed away less than a month later. It was plain brushed chrome, but I treasured it mostly because of its significance. I am now returning you that lighter for repair, after something like 40 years of use. Please treat it tenderly, because it contains 40 years of memories.

My dad and I were fishing on Lake Norfolk in the early '60s. I had a bite on the line just as my dad was firing up his lighter. Not being a very good fisherman, I jumped up to set the hook, and Dad's Zippo lighter went flying overboard. The lake water was high that year due to flooding, but the following year I could walk on dry ground in the same area we had fished. And up in the branches of a small tree I found the Zippo.

When my grandfather passed away, I was given the Zippo lighter that was issued to him by the army. The front side reads "FROHE WEIHNACHTEN 1953 WURZBURG GERMANY."

The back reads "COMPANY E 7811 SCU" and his name. This, a Zippo made in 1953, was the first Zippo in my still small collection. It will also be the most cherished. Thanks for making such great products, and great memories.

I bought my first Zippo in 1979 when I started as a flying crew chief in the Air Force. I still have that first Zippo and it still works great, despite the abuse it took from an Air Force aircraft mechanic over 21 years of service all over the globe. This lighter has seen action in almost every conflict since 1979. It is my good luck charm. Thank you for helping to keep my faith in American companies.

For Real

This year, Zipper's new brand campaign centers around the tagline "For Real."

Why "For Real"? Because Zipper lighters are just that. Real, plain and simple. Basically unchanged for 70 years, Zipper lighters are for those who want what's genuine. Not disposable or the latest techno gadget.

Examined yet another way the line has attitude as a contemporary positive affirmation, as in a conversation like, "that Harley is awesome" . . . "yeah, for real."

So that's how Zipper came about choosing our new slogan. It's simple, clear and uncomplicated. Just like the Zipper lighter.

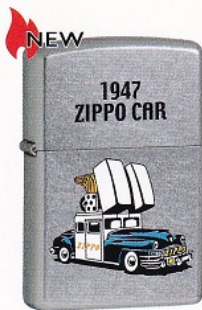

Collector Story

One day my buddy and I were shopping in a well-known store and in the tobacco section we saw a Zipper display. I told my friend that my birthday was coming up soon and that I wanted a Zipper lighter. He knew which model I liked best. To my surprise, on my birthday not only my friend gave me a Zipper, but my girl friend did too! Since that day I became a dedicated Zipper collector.

Not a real amazing story here, but just wanted to tell what happened. I had a Zippo with "Ford Truck" logo on it, and lost it about a year and a half ago. It recently resurfaced in my burning pit outside - after dozens of fires, and sitting out all winter in Michigan, under lots of snow. I merely wiped it off, changed the flint and fueled it. It lit right up! I was particularly impressed by the fact that not even the outside finish was damaged. Once again Zippo has shown how tough and robust their product is.

Collector Story

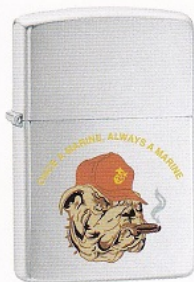

I was a member of the U.S. Army 101st Airborne Division, assigned to the Bravo Team of the 2nd 502 LRRP's. We were deployed along the Vietnam/Cambodian border to observe and track enemy patrols. One night, a 20-man patrol of North Vietnamese regulars happened upon our position. During the ensuing firefight, I thought that I had been shot when I felt a powerful hit on the left side of my chest. Not seeing any blood and only observing an unusual bruise on my chest, we carried on. It was only after returning with our prisoners to the nearest firebase that I realized that my favorite lighter, my Zippo, had been in my left shirt pocket and had taken a direct hit from an AK-47 round! The lighter was destroyed, but I kept it with me for the rest of my tour. I had never carried that lighter in my shirt pocket before that May night, but have carried one there ever since! I will always remember that lighter with the yellow inscription on it. It was a true friend and a lasting memory.

My wife gave me my first Zippo as my coming home present from Desert Storm, in Saudi Arabia. I was serving in the United States Marine Corps, so my Zippo was appropriately emblazoned with the Marine Corps emblem. Very cool! The lighter has a brushed silver body with a shiny brass eagle, globe, and anchor. It's not just a lighter. This is a keepsake from my wife for our time away from each other and a reminder of who I am. This token is better than any of the medals or citations that I received.

In 1969, I purchased a Zippo lighter in Cu Chi, South Vietnam. I had my name and unit (25th Infantry) engraved on it and carried it with me for the next twelve months. It was the only memento of my experience, besides my dog tags, that survived the trip back home. In 1972 I lost my Zippo, never to be seen again; I thought.

Last year (28 years later) I received a call from a stranger, who asked if I had ever owned a 1938 Chevrolet. I confirmed that I had, back in 1972. "Well," he said, "I found a Zippo lighter with your name on it." I could hardly believe it! My lighter sat in the back seat of that old Chevy for 28 years! The car had been fully restored and was the featured car for March in the 2000 Classic Car calendar. When the photo was taken for the calendar, my lighter was in it.

Yesterday my wife went to pick up my long-lost Zippo lighter; it was only 30 miles away. It's as bright as the day I bought it, and still works!

I was fishing on the pier, when my lighter slipped out of my hand, over the rails, and into the ocean. I was heartbroken, as it had been a gift from my husband. Later that night, I pulled up a crab trap to retrieve my catch, and guess what was in the claws of one of the crabs? My lighter! I opened it and it fired right up. Your product is truly what you say it is. It works every time. Unfortunately, I loaned the lighter to someone at a party and never received it back.

Collector Story

My grandfather's Zippo holds a very near and dear place in my heart. As an enlisted man in the Navy, he participated in the first viewing of testing of the atomic bomb. He was given a Zippo commemorating the date and operation name of the testing. I don't believe there could be a more special Zippo in existence, due not only to the event it was commemorating, but also to the great man who used it on an almost daily basis for many years afterwards.

Collector Story

I'm an avid Zippo lighter collector. Five years ago, I lost over 300 Zippos in a fire in the building where I lived at that time. I began another collection, which numbers 21 Zippos so far. The one that I treasure the most is a 1953 Zippo with the Whirlpool logo on the front, which I found while using my metal detector. A company like Zippo is hard to find these days. Not too many companies are willing to stand behind their products like you do. I am now, and will always continue to be, a loyal customer.

Collector Story

It was getting dark one night as I walked in a field near a small river. My dog Rover was running though the river, and when I got to the end of the field, I called him. When he didn't come, I walked back up the field to find he was tangled in a long thread. When I bent down to get him untangled, my Zippo fell out of my pocket into the river. I tried to grab it, but missed. About three months later I was walking my dog in the same field. I let him off the lead, and he ran though the river across the field. When I got to the end of the field, he ran back to me with something in his mouth. It was my Zippo, wet and muddy, but still working.

Collector Story

On a camping trip in the Black Hills when I was 10 years old, my dad and I ran into a bear. We stayed still until my dog started barking and it turned and saw us. I was standing right next to a pile of some twigs and I bent over and pulled some brown weeds and threw them on top of the twigs. Then I reached in my pocket and pulled out a Zippo, which my dad didn't know I had. (He got really mad!) I lit the lighter and threw it on the twigs. Then I told my dad to grab a stick and light it on fire and we kept walking. Scared by fire, the bear ran off, and we went back to camp. Thanks to your lighter my dog, my dad, and I were saved from a bear.

Collector Story

A recent segment on the History Channel's "Lost and Found" illustrated the windproof feature of a Zippo windproof lighter with a vintage "fan test" ad. An actor stood in front of a fan and the wind it created didn't blow out the flame of the Zippo lighter. Well, I'm here to tell you that ad didn't do your lighter justice! Try standing on the flight deck of an aircraft carrier going about 25-30 knots and then light the Zippo. That's a real test, where the wind blows so hard that leaning your body into it keeps you from falling. The carrier was the USS Coral Sea - and the Zippo passed with flying colors. Very impressive.

SURFACE IMPRINT

Surface imprinting is a silk-screening process using a separate screen for each color. Durable epoxy paint is applied to the finish, building a rich and vibrant image. The product is oven-cured, bonding the epoxy imprint to the surface, where it becomes an integral part of the finish.

COMPUTER ENGRAVING

The crisp, clean look of computer engraving has become one of the most popular customization methods Zippo offers. Skilled operators use either the rotary engrave or diamond cut method to inscribe an image into the product. Each engraving machine is custom programmed through a keyboard or from digitized artwork.

STYLUS SERIES IMPRINTS

Zippo stylus series pens may be customized with a band imprint, an attached emblem, or a combination of both. The multi-color process developed exclusively by Zippo ensures sharp, high quality image replication in a very small area.

Imprint bands are made from a three-part laminate process which creates crisp, vivid images. To protect the image, the band is covered with a clear Teflon ring and then heat sealed.

Emblem imprints are produced by the same laminate method. The design is protected by a crystalline dome, which enhances the image with a three-dimensional look.

how to order

Preproduction samples are available upon request. Zippo will produce either an actual product imprinted with your design or, for faster service, a computer-generated paper sample (see facing page).

There are no artwork, set-up or sample charges. Zippo offers a "no charge" sample because we know, from experience, that the vast majority of samples produced turn into firm orders.

Our pricing is based on the product model selected, the number of colors used in the imprint/engraving and the number of product surfaces covered.

It's easy to order Zippo custom-imprinted products:

1. Select the graphic design you want to use and send the physical "artwork" to us. Sorry, we are not able to reproduce artwork that has been faxed.

2. Indicate the product name and number and, for lighters, the surface location of the imprint:

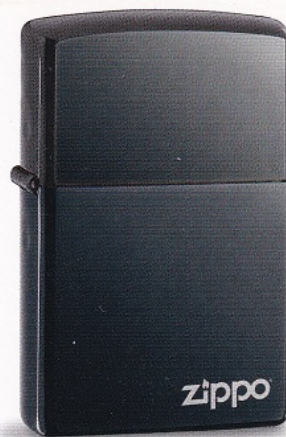

- front top and/or bottom
- back top and/or bottom
- a combination of above

3. Indicate the quantity you are ordering. Most products require a minimum order of 50 pieces.

4. Select imprinting style, shown on these pages. Not every process is suitable for every product.

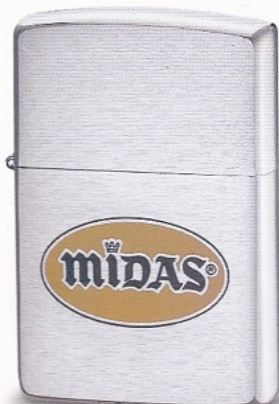

LASER ENGRAVING

Laser engraving is one of the newest customization methods offered by Zippo. The state-of-the-art process allows tremendous flexibility in reproducing your artwork on our products. Our laser engravers are computer programmed to generate crisp, accurate replication of your imprint. Laser engraving is now available on most Zippo products. Show us your artwork and we will tell you if laser engraving will work for you.

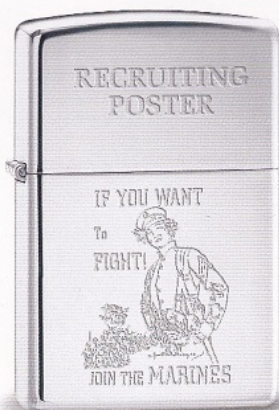

ETCH AND PAINT

Zippo's etch and paint method produces an attractive, durable imprint. A reversed image is silk-screened on the Zippo product with an acid-resistant paint. Leaving exposed only the areas to be etched, the product is dipped in an acid bath, which etches all unprotected areas. Paint colors are screened one at a time into the etched cavities, resulting in a colorful graphic that is permanently defined in the surface.

LUSTER ETCH

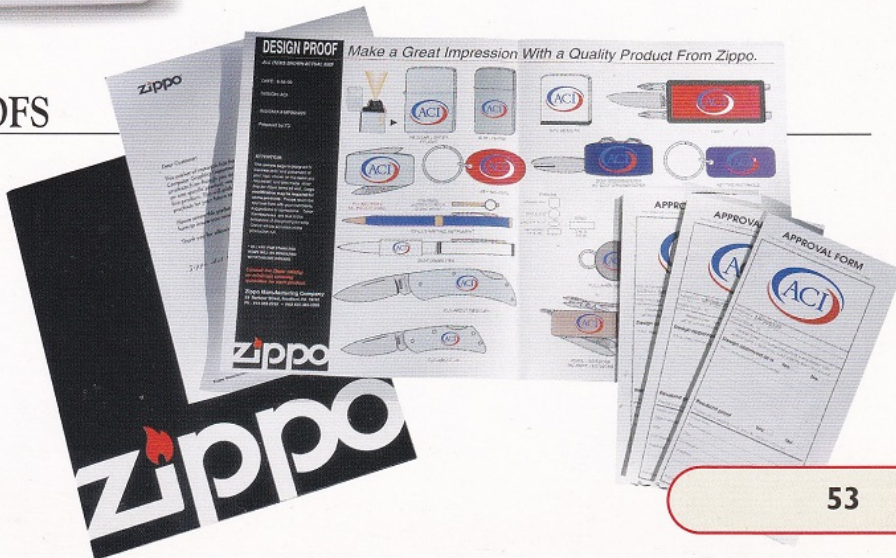

The procedure for luster etch is the same as etch and paint through the acid bath. No colors are used for luster etch; instead, the product is etched and then plated. Skillful hand or machine buffing defines the high and low areas of the design to create a subtle dimensional effect.

COMPUTER GRAPHIC PROOFS

Our computer-generated paper proof is a no-cost option, available on request. The proof shows your full-color imprint on a variety of Zippo products. Ideal for product presentation or for art approval.

Zippo custom imprinting

Zippo is proud of our reputation for high quality imprinting. For souvenir lighters, custom designs, or special orders, we create just the right image for you. Zippo offers several different imprinting methods, described on these two pages.

The minimum quantity for most custom-imprinted products is only 50 pieces per product model per design.

Zippo's custom imprinting process starts with your artwork. Our art department will reproduce a souvenir postcard, sketch, photograph, or any other image you would like on your choice of Zippo product.

If you are requesting a logo to be imprinted, please keep in mind that it is your responsibility to secure the right to use the logo.

Use it to start something.
